

CelSian job description: Trainer

Description of the role:

As trainer at CelSian you are responsible for running open enrollment and customer dedicated training programs. We are experts in glass melting and support the global glass industry with a number of trainings for furnace operators up to senior R&D and engineering teams. Our training offering comprises a mix of E-learning, online simulators, case studies as well as classical courses. We have developed a network of passionate and experienced glass experts and are continuously looking for part-time glass experts to further support and extend our training offer worldwide.

Key tasks:

- Organize and run glass trainings in your region
- Acquisition of training participants
- Sell company dedicated trainings
- Analyse and report participant feed back

Requirements:

- Minimum 10 years experience in glass industry (R&D, engineering, operations)
- Passion for glass manufacturing
- Next to English, fluent in one of these languages: Japanese, Chinese, Russian, Portugese, Spanish, Italian or German
- Strong communication skills (as trainer and towards global trainer network)

CelSian offers:

- An equal opportunity place to work, and with our global customer base we're proud to celebrate differences between our team members and affiliated partners
- International network of glass experts
- An intellectual inspiring work environment and ambitious team

Curious to learn more?

- Please send your CV and motivation to harmen.kielstra@celsian.nl or call Harmen Kielstra for more information (+31 40 249 0102)